German Chamomile (Chamomilla recutita) Extract journey to Soothing Complex

One of the most popular herbs widely used in skin care throughout history is German chamomile. It is known that the skin soothing and therapeutic properties of German chamomile have been used since the ancient Egyptian period. German chamomile baths, masks, tonics were used to soothe skin irritations, cleanse the skin and reduce inflammation. Lavender is an herb that has been used for calming purposes for thousands of years. Lavender extracts have the effect of moisturising the skin, reducing inflammation and balancing skin tone. St. John's Wort is used to accelerate wound healing, reduce inflammation and treat skin blemishes and problems. Sage extracts, which have the properties of balancing oil on the skin, providing an antiseptic effect and relieving irritation on the skin, have an important place. Fennel, on the other hand, has the properties of soothing the skin, providing antioxidant effects and balancing the skin tone.

The Soothing Complex product, created with the strong effect of these herbal extracts, provides peace and relaxation in skin care. It soothes the skin, relieves irritations and gives a healthy appearance. We present to you Greenext Soothing Complex, which we produce by utilizing May chamomile, which is considered a valuable ingredient in the skin care industry due to such benefits, and other plants with its harmonious properties.
